

Scion Racing Sits Atop Formula DRIFT Standings Heading into Season Finale

October 07, 2015

Image not found or type unknown

TORRANCE, Calif. (Oct. 7, 2015) – Scion Racing has its eye on the prize. Heading into the 2015 U.S. Formula DRIFT Pro Championship, Rockstar Energy Hankook Tire Scion tC driver Fredric Aasbo leads all competition in first place, while GReddy Performance Scion FR-S driver Ken Gushi follows in second. With a substantial points lead, Scion Racing has already captured its second straight Manufacturer's Cup.

The Formula DRIFT season finale, Final Fight, takes place Oct. 9 – 10 at Irwindale Speedway in Irwindale, California.

With a runner-up finish in the 2014 Formula Drift season, Aasbo hopes to achieve his 10-year dream of clinching the driver's championship.

"We feel great heading into the finals and are hungry to close out the season on top," said Aasbo. "Making adjustments to the tC after last season has paid off for us, and I'm excited to get out there and battle for the title."

Gushi moved from Fourth to Second in the Formula DRIFT Championship points standings after a strong runner-up showing at Formula Drift Texas in August.

"The momentum is definitely on our side," said Gushi. "All season the FR-S has performed at optimal levels, and I'm hoping Fredric and I will be standing next to one another on the podium at Irwindale."

Outside of the drifting action, fans are welcome to stop by the Scion Racing space to check out the 2015 Scion xB 686 Parklan Edition along with an array of modified vehicles. In addition to the vehicle displays, fans will be treated to a number of giveaways from Scion Racing throughout Final Fight.

"Fredric and Ken have provided Scion Racing, Papadakis Racing and GReddy Racing with one of the most exciting seasons of Formula D," said Landy Joe, Scion auto shows and special events manager. "While Irwindale will be an all-out battle for the driver's championship, we're proud that Scion Racing has come out on top for the Manufacturer's Cup."

Drifting is a high-skill, high-powered motorsport with an emphasis on car control skill. Drivers compete in knockout heats on a closed course, sliding sideways in trials judged on speed and style. With origins in Japan, it is one of the fastest growing forms of motorsport in the world.

To learn more about Scion Racing, visit www.ScionRacing.com for blog entries, photos and video content.